

Today, we created “Morse Code” with our future scientists!

We learned that sound is a form of energy. By building an electrical circuit, we created a simple telegraph and explored how sound can be transmitted using Morse code.

At home, you can ask your child questions such as:

“How did you transmit sound using Morse code?”

“What kind of device did you build?”

Stay curious and keep exploring science!

MORSE CODE – CODING WITH SOUND

