

THE VOLCANO IS ERUPTING

Today at school, with the Volcano Eruption activity, we explored the structure and functioning of volcanoes. In our experiment, we observed how gases produced during the reaction caused the eruption. We also learned about the effects of volcanic eruptions on nature and human life.

At home, you can reinforce the topic by asking, "Which volcanoes are active today?"

Stay curious and keep exploring science!

