

CURIOUS BOX

Today at school, we did the Wind Detectives activity.

We made our own anemometer, a device used to measure wind speed. By taking measurements, we observed how an anemometer works to measure wind. We also explored different types of anemometers and their real-world applications.

Stay curious and keep exploring science!

WIND DETECTIVES

