

Today at school, we conducted the Artificial Snow Experiment.

We talked about the seasons and observed how artificial snow forms through our experiment.

At home, you can reinforce the activity by asking your child questions such as:

- What is your favorite season and what are its features?
- How are day and night formed?
- How do the seasons occur?

Stay curious and keep exploring science!

ARTIFICIAL SNOW

