

Today at school, our little scientists made their first soaps!

We learned about the proper handwashing techniques and discovered the basic rules of hygiene.

At home, you can reinforce the activity by washing your hands together using the soap your child made, following the correct handwashing steps.

Stay curious and keep exploring science!

MY FIRST SOAP

