

CURIOUS BOX

Today at school, with our Water Cycle experiment, we explored the importance of water in our lives and how it transforms. Observing the formation of rain through the model helped us better understand the amazing cycles of nature.

You can also support your child in using water responsibly. You can track daily water consumption together using the activity page.

Stay curious and keep exploring science!

WATER CYCLE

